Custom Office Design is able to manufacture products featuring shaped wooden edge from a variety of detailed profiles, including but not limited to those depicted below. Crafted from a wood species identified as complimentary for staining to match applicable colors from our selection of standard laminate finishes.

Wooden Edge thickness is traditionally built to match Surface thickness with build-down available upon request (additional charges may apply). Profiles are categorized by Width (projection distance from surface) below, see each profile's description for additional specification. Request Quote for Pricing.
